Sample Research Brief: Community Cooling Centers

Page 1

Cooling centers provide air-conditioned public spaces during extreme heat.

Libraries and community centers can serve as cooling locations.

Access and operating hours

Some residents remain at work or outdoors during the hottest hours. Evening hours help residents cool down after work and avoid unsafe indoor temperatures overnight. Transit access and clear public notices also make cooling centers easier to use.